Inclusive Education made simple

Aim

Whether novice or experienced educator, addressing the unique challenges that accompany students of migrant background requires support to equip them with the right tools, resources, knowledge and attitudes.

Rationale

Proactive measures to integrate newly arrived migrant students in formal education are important to avoid the marginalization of a vulnerable student population from the benefits of a quality education, and society as a whole.

Best Practices

The Depository of Innovative Practices for Inclusive Education (DIPIE), which can be found on the ENACTED e-learning platform is a free, easily accessible online library of best practices in the field of inclusive education for newly arrived migrant children. These replicable practices are derived from organizations and projects in Cyprus, Greece, Italy and Spain that educators can access and contact to learn more.

These best practices can be found by

1. Country of implementation
2. Target of Practice
3. Type of Practice
4. Title of Practice

Title of Practice: 	Type of service/practice: 	Country of implementation: 	Direct target group/beneficiaries:
Indirect target group/beneficiaries: 	Filter Results

The practices are also easily downloadable in a pdf format.

The elearning platform is free and available in English, Greek, Spanish and Italian.

Furthermore, new practices that arise from the experiences of educators, NGO practitioners etc.

will be able to complement the resources available.

Forum

In the e-learning platform we have created a space for interaction between experts in the integration support network from all the countries of implementation.

Teachers and Educators that have received training in the framework of the project, NGO staff and activists, government officials and other experts in the field of migrant integration will be able to interact and communicate directly through the working groups and forum on the e-learning platform

How can you participate?

Just go to the e-learning platform and sign up following the very simple steps.

<https://enacted.eu/elearning/register/>

After you verify your account from your email you will have a profile and you can either follow thematic areas of special interest, post innovative practices that you use in your classroom or challenges you may have encountered and seek help from peers or experts.

If you request a more dedicated involvement, please don't hesitate to contact local partners in the implementing countries or send us a message in our website, e-learning platform or Facebook!
